EDITOR'S note

DON'T BE SCARED, IT'S JUST... HALLOWEEN IN JULY!

Because our publication lists items months in advance of their on sale dates, we tend to sometimes celebrate the holidays a little early around here. For example: we're getting ready for Halloween 2013 in this issue! In addition to tons of horror-themed comics, graphic novels and books, we have our regular selection of horror and monster products to get you in the mood for the season!

Next month, we'll be unveiling the line-up for our second annual Halloween Comic Fest, where we join forces with some of today's top publishers to create special full-sized and mini comics, especially to for folks to give out during Halloween instead of candy. OR in addition to... you know who you cool folks are.

Also, on the FlipSide of this issue, my buddy Vince Brusio from PREVIEWSworld.com interviews Hack/Slash creator Tim Seeley about his upcoming horror crossover event, Army of Darkness vs. Hack/Slash #1. It's a book I'm definitely looking forward to reading

I'll soon be off to sunny California to attend the San Diego Comic Con, with my main "mang" himself, Chris Cade, once again piloting the air conditioned motor coach through the sweltering heat of the journey from Sacramento to Los Angeles. From there, its on to beautiful San Diego and the best week of the year, for me, anyway!

If you're going to Comic Con, congratulations and have fun! Hopefully I'll meet some PREVIEWS readers while I'm there, it's always nice to meet the folks who we do all this catalog stuff for every month! And if you're not going, then be sure to check out our exclusive coverage on PREVIEWSworld.com! Our team will be on hand all week, interviewing creators and celebrity guests, and capturing images of the incredible cosplayers walking the convention floor. It's the next best thing to being there!

Have yourselves a great July, and please... let's keep things safe and sane on the Fourth, people!

Your Pal @ PREVIEWS,

JEFF smithJEFF smithJEFF smithJEFF smithJEFF smithJEFF smithJEFF smithJEFF smithJEFF smith

This month's featured creators is...

JEFF SMITH

Jeff Smith is the New York Times best-selling author/cartoonist of the Bone graphic novels. Bone won numerous awards around the world, including multiple American Eisners and Harveys, and the French Alph Art. In 2005, Smith's work was chosen to launch Graphix, an imprint of Scholastic Books. Smith is the guest editor for Best American Comics 2013. RASL, his current offering, is now available in a full-color hardcover collection.

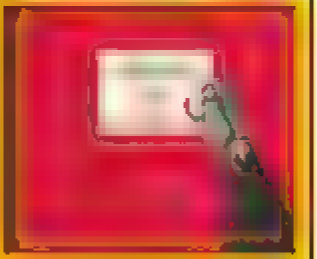
Jeff Smith, what are your favorite projects you've contributed to over the past decade?

Well, I haven't been involved in all that many, but there are moments that stand out. In the early days, Bone allowed me to be part of the Self-Publishing & Indie movements, and then later when Scholastic launched Graphix with a colorized version, I was on hand to see teachers and librarians embrace comics and graphic novels as art, as well as teaching tools. RASL, my hard science/hardboiled crime story, which finished its serialized run in the comic shops last year, was the most complex story I've ever tackled. Interweaving String Theory, true history, and a bunch of damaged outcasts in a noir-drenched mystery on multiple universes meant I had to keep my notes straight. Coloring and re-editing RASL for the new hardcover was almost as challenging as anything I ever been a part of. And I recently wrapped up my gig as guest editor of The Best American Comics 2013 for Houghton Mifflin Harcourt. Talk about reading Indie comics, that's all I did for the better part of a year! What an astonishing amount of talent is out there right now. From the cover by Kate Beaton (Hark! A Vagrant!) to the last story by Paul Pope (Battling Boy), I'm grateful to have been even a small part of this project.

Jeff Smith, what are you currently working on?

I just started work on my next comedy/adventure project about the first human to leave Africa 2,000,000 years ago as the species was going extinct: Tuki Save the Humans.

Jeff Smith, what are your reading?



You're All Just Jealous of My Jetpack (JAN131108) by Tom Gauld — I first read Gauld in last year's Goliath and fell in love with his drawing style. Jetpack is seriously funny and beautiful to behold.

The Infinite Wait and Other Stories by Julia Wertz. With drawings that appear simple and child-like, Wertz disarmed me, and drew me into a story that is both sardonic and poignant. She'll probably hate that description!

BATTLING BOY

Battling Boy by Paul Pope. My old pal is back with an adventure tale about kids, gods, and monster villains. His lush line work and dynamic movement across the page is something that hasn't been seen since the days of Kirby. (See Previews #299!)

THREE GENERATIONS OF X-MEN COLLIDE IN BATTLE OF THE ATOM

Fifty years ago Stan Lee and Jack Kirby introduced readers to the most exciting and most unusual super-team of all time — the X-Men. These "children of the atom" were born with special abilities and powers and, under the tutelage of Professor Charles Xavier, the X-Men used their mutant powers to defend the world from all threats, both human and mutant. This autumn Marvel Comics celebrates a half-century of the X-Men with the biggest X-Men crossover yet, X-Men: Battle of the Atom!

In the pages of All-New X-Men, the original X-Men journeyed to the present. Operating in the present day, out of their own time, a tragedy befalls the original team that causes ripples throughout the timestream. To save the timeline, a team of X-Men from the future arrives to return the All-New X-Men to their proper place in time, touching off a conflict between three generations of X-Men. The All-New X-Men go on the run, pursued by the X-Men of the future, with the X-Men of the present choosing sides, with the fate of the All-New X-Men in the balance!

The ten-part crossover event begins in the over-sized X-Men: Battle of the Atom #1 from Brian Michael Bendis and Frank Cho, the continues throughout September in All-New X-Men #16 from Bendis and Stuart Immonen, X-Men #5 from Brian Wood and David Lopez, and Uncanny X-Men #12 from Bendis and Chris Bachalo, then reaches a turning point in Jason Aaron and Giuseppe Camuncoli's Wolverine and the X-Men #36.

The past, present, and future of the X-Men collide this September and October in the X-Men's biggest crossover event ever. Whether you're a long-time X-Men fan or a new reader, be sure to celebrate a half-century of Marvel Comics' most exciting franchise when X-Men: Battle of the Atom #1 comes your way this September!

WHEN THE X-MEN OF THE FUTURE ATTEMPT TO SEND THE ALL-NEW X-MEN BACK TO THEIR PROPER PLACE IN TIME, TODAY'S X-MEN MUST CHOOSE SIDES IN MARVEL COMICS' X-MEN 50TH-ANNIVERSARY CROSSOVER!

THE BOXER REBELLION SHAPES TWO LIVES IN GENE LUEN YANG'S NEW GRAPHIC NOVELS

Thousands of years ago humanity worshipped a multitude of gods. The Greeks had Zeus, the Egyptians worshipped Horus, the Norse followed Odin. Over time their followers abandoned these gods for others and this September the gods return in Jonathan Hickman's new series for Avatar Press, God is Dead! The ancient gods have returned to Earth and they begin dividing it amongst themselves, leaving humanity caught in the middle of a war of the gods.

The French call the orgasm le petit mort, "the little death," meaning the loss of self when sexual climax is achieved. Suzie, however, has a different experience when achieving orgasm. Instead of losing herself, Suzie loses time. As in, time comes to a halt around her and she becomes "stuck" in the moment.

Suzie thinks that she is the only person in the world to experience time stoppage during sex. Then she meets John who, curiously, has the same experience that she has -- time's flow comes to a screeching halt.

Together, Suzie and John put their powers to use. No, they're not going to write novels or become efficient at work. Instead, they're going to use their powers to get ahead in the world by robbing a few banks.

What could possibly go wrong?

Follow this sexual Bonnie and Clyde team in Matt Fraction and Chip Zdarsky's Image Comics series, Sex Criminals. Because there's nothing like blowing a bank vault.

WHEN TWO PEOPLE DISCOVER THEY CAN STOP TIME BY HAVING SEX, THEY USE THEIR POWERS FOR NEFARIOUS PURPOSES!

Dark Horse HORROR

WHILE THE STORIES WE TELL IN COMICS HINGE UPON THE IMAGES AN ARTIST LAYS DOWN, MUCH OF THE STORY IS TOLD BETWEEN THE PANELS. Horror, the most visceral of genres, relies on startling images, but anyone who's read Lovecraft or seen Alien—or wandered into an abandoned asylum in the dead of night—knows the scariest things are the ones you don't see.

We take in all of the beauty and horror the world has to present through the five senses, and the writers and artists in our horror books use the comics medium to full effect. In Kiss Me, Satan, a title debuting this month from writer Victor Gischler (Spike: A Dark Place), you'll hear New Orleans jazz and the screech of car tires as clearly as you'll see the clockwork filigree inside a horrible old woman's eye. Kiss Me, Satan artist Juan Ferreyra also drew last year's Colder, a book that caused a lot of readers to look away more than once … We're daring you to look again.

This fall, throw yourself into some new nightmares.

THE THIRD DEGREE

KURTIS WIEBE

What are you working on right now?
I'm in the middle of our third arc for my Peter Pan re-imagining, PETER PANZERFAUST and currently getting ahead on my violent fantasy epic, RAT QUEENS.

What's the best part of your job?
That every single day I live in my imagination and, once in a while, I write about it. That I have full creative control over the characters and worlds I create.

What's the worst part of your job?
I have to, in general, set my own deadlines and be responsible enough to meet them.

How did you first discover comics?
Truthfully, my first real inspired brush with comics was with two Image Comics series. At the times, I had no idea there were comics that didn't belong in the superhero genre. FELL by Warren Ellis and Ben Templesmith and then WALKING DEAD by Robert Kirkman were the two comics that changed everything.

If you weren't working in comics, what would you be doing?
Mostly likely what I was doing before my career took off: Driving a city bus. If I could do anything I wanted though, I'd be a celebrity chef. Unfortunately, I'm a mediocre cook.

What's the most touching thing a fan has ever said to you?
In relation to GREEN WAKE, which was a deeply personal story for me: "Thank you for sharing this story with the world."

Who is the biggest influence on your work?
It's actually changed a lot over the years. I've always been a massive fan of Brian K. Vaughan because his stories were always driven by well rounded, living characters. That is something I've always striven to attain and his work has been an inspiration to me.

What's the single work you're most proud of?
I think because it was such a huge part of my journey in life at the time and because of the fans that have followed me since it came out, I'd say GREEN WAKE. It's hard to choose, though. I really have loved working on all my projects with amazingly talented people.

Own up to one of your guilty pleasures.
Hell's Kitchen. Sigh.

What was the last comic book you bought?
I picked up STAR WARS LEGACY by Gabriel Hardman and Corinna Bechko and GHOST WORLD by Daniel Clowes when I was at Arcane Comics in Seattle for a signing over the weekend.

If you could be someone else for a day, who would it be?
(Couldn't think of one, sorry, haha.)

What are three things you can't live without?
Family, friends and career. While I could live without my current career, I wouldn't be half the man I am now without the support of the family and friends who've always been there for me.

What is the strangest thing you have in your house?
A fridge with absolutely zero groceries in it at the moment. That's very strange.

What makes you cringe?
Human awkwardness.

What is one of your favorite places?
Seattle. It has a lot of personal ties for me, not just for friends who live there but also because it was ECCC 2010 that I pitched INTREPIDS to Image. It was the beginning of my comic writing career. It's also beautiful and mournful, the perfect atmosphere for a weirdo like me.

What music are you listening to these days?
Sigur Rós, any album. They are my writing muse and set the mood for pretty much every scene I create specifically for PETER PANZERFAUST. I'm truthfully terrible at keeping up with current music trends.

What is your favorite film of all time?
Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind followed closely by Waltz With Bashir. Both deal with memory and how it shapes who we are.

[illegible]?
My collaborators. I think there has to be that level of trust with the artist on a project or else that lack of communication shows up on the page. I always ask for honest feedback from the men and women I work with and, thankfully, I often receive it. Sometimes brutally, haha.

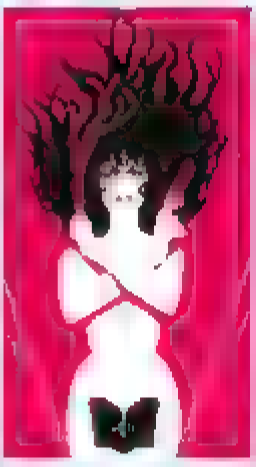
What is the best advice you've ever gotten?
It was something Jason Aaron said in a CBR column a few years ago: Write like your parents are dead. I love my mom and dad, dearly, but I know that some of the things I write would offend them, but I can't let that steer the flow of story. I have to be 100% genuine with who I am and what I want to say through comics.

When was the last time you were truly frightened?
When I saw a few of these questions on this list.

Who is someone you really admire?
My parents. I doubt I need to share as to why, but they've been an absolute unyielding source of support and encouragement to me my entire life. Thought it all.

What would you like to see happen in comics in the next 12 months?
I want to see the popularity of indie, creator owned comics rise and for the floodgates of creativity open. That my fellow writers and artists find any opportunity they can to create and share their vision and passion with comic fans all over the world. And more titles with awesome lady characters.

SEX CRIMINALS #1

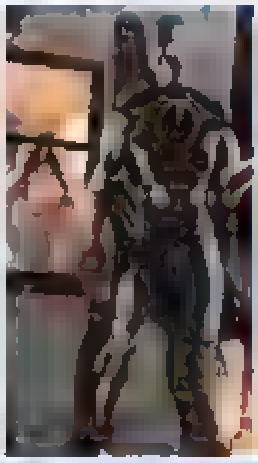


Suzie's a normal girl with an extraordinary ability: when she has sex, she stops time. One night she meets Jon... who has the same gift. And so they do what any other sex-having, time-stopping couple would do: they rob banks. In the vein of THE 40-YEAR OLD VIRGIN and BRIDESMAIDS, Image Comics invites you to come along for the series that puts the "comic" back in "comics" and the "sexy" back in "sex crimes."

RAT QUEENS #1

Who are the Rat Queens? A pack of booze-guzzling, death-dealing battle maidens-for-hire, and they're in the business of killing all god's creatures for profit. It's also a dirty comedic fantasy series starring Hannah the Rockabilly Elven Mage, Violet the Hipster Dwarven Fighter, Dee the Atheist Human Cleric and Betty the Hippy Hobbit Thief. This modern spin on an old school genre is a violent monster-killing epic!

REALITY CHECK #1



A struggling artist, Willard Pena, scores an unlikely hit with his new comic. The story centers on a hero more concerned with his libido than serving justice. One night, the book's hero shows up outside Willard's window refusing to return to the comic until he finds true love. Exasperated, Willard is forced to help the lovesick hero meet the perfect woman. But he'll need to hurry because the book's villain has entered his world as well.

ZERO #1

Edward Zero is the perfect execution machine — a spy who breaks the rules to get things done. When a stolen device appears in the center of a long-running conflict, Zero comes to retrieve it. The problem is, the device is inside a living, breathing, bio-modified terrorist and there's an entire army after it.

3 WAYS LOGISTICS CAN HELP YOU SATISFY ONLINE SHOPPERS.

Last year alone, e-commerce grew 14% as more and more people shopped online.* According to comScore's Online Shopping Customer Experience Study commissioned by UPS, you can generate loyalty by implementing simple practices.

1) GIVE DELIVERY OPTIONS

Even though 67% of shoppers surveyed said they usually choose the most economical delivery option, the majority want an array of choices. That's why UPS offers many options, ranging from ground to early morning overnight to international.

2) OFFER MORE CONTROL

Online shoppers want the flexibility to manage their deliveries. They want clear communication about delivery dates, along with alerts, confirmations and rescheduling options. UPS My Choice℠ makes this high level of home delivery service possible.

3) MAKE RETURNS EASY

51% of those surveyed said they have returned a product purchased online. Almost half of those shoppers would shop more often and even recommend retailers to friends if return options were easier. And UPS offers plenty of flexible return options.

MARADA THE SHE WOLF

Titan Comics

Chris Claremont is widely recognized for his work on Uncanny X-Men, having penned several iconic stories in the X-Men franchise. Now, Titan Comics is bringing Claremont's Marada the She Wolf back to print.

Initially the project was to be a Red Sonja book, but Marvel lost the rights. Claremont and artist John Bolton were not deterred and gave their main character a make over giving her silver hair, a new back story rooted in the Roman Empire, and a new name. To top it off she's also a direct descendant of a Caesar too!

The result is a thrilling adventure starring a warrior woman that deals with enemies and her men on her terms. Marada squares off against raiders, demons, sorcerers, and more.

Fans of sword and sorcery fantasy and Chris Claremont's work will not be disappointed. Pick up Marada the She Wolf from Titan Comics!

GOD IS DEAD #1

Regular Retail Price: $3.99 US
Cover & Writer: Jonathan Hickman
Art: Di Amorim
MR, Color, 32 pages, 1 of 6

About: Like a thunderbolt from heaven, the epic launch issue of GOD IS DEAD is here! East of West and Fantastic Four author JONATHAN HICKMAN launches a fierce new series that stomps where others fear to tread. Mankind has argued over the existence of gods since the dawn of time. In modern eras it's been fashionable to mock religious believers with taunts of scientific testimony and fact. But when the gods of old begin to reappear on earth and claim the domain of man for their own, the world is thrown into a state of utter anarchy. Now Horus walks the streets of Egypt, Zeus has taken over the Sistine Chapel, and Odin is coordinating the dissection of the earth among the returned deities. Mankind held sway over the world for thousands of years and their hubris over that time has made them powerful but when faced with the divine, can mortal weapons put an end to the second coming of the gods? Available with a Regular cover by Jonathan Hickman, End of Days cover by superstar Jacen Burrows, a premium Iconic cover by Burrows that features a card stock cover and is limited to just 5000 copies, and a Pantheon Order Incentive cover by series artist Di Amorim.

DAN THE UNHARMABLE VOL 2 TPB

TPB Retail Price: $19.99 US
Writer: David Lapham
Cover & Artist: Rafael Ortiz
MR, Color, 160 pages

About Fan favorite writer DAVID LAPHAM has created one of the truly original gonzo comics of the decade. Dan is the man. He's a self-made slacker who some might call a bum, but he calls perfect. After all, he doesn't need much: some good tunes, a couple of bucks, and a warm spot to take a nap in. Of course, his sort-of-maybe-wannabe kids keep getting into trouble with the most insane killers imaginable. It's enough to give a guy cancer just thinking about it. But this unharmable likable bumpkin has to get his act together and help the kids before social services splits them up or a secretive Hollywood society of killers turn them into ground beef. Explosive and imaginative crime noir as written by a master of the genre, Eisner Award-winning writer David Lapham. Collects issues #7-12 of the Dan the Unharmable series.

CROSSED SPECIAL 2013

Regular Retail: $5.99

Cover: Jacen Burrows - Writer: Simon Spurrier
Art: Gabriel Andrade - MR, Color, 48 pages

About: SIMON SPURRIER and GABRIEL ANDRADE celebrate five years of CROSSED with the first ever giant-sized Special! How do you commemorate a half decade of GARTH ENNIS' violent masterpiece? By creating a story that goes beyond the surface misery of the gleeful Crossed maniacs and reaching into the fragile human psyche with something truly terrifying. Todd drives a road train through the desolate Australian outback. Before C-day he was a loser, an outcast, a fat nobody with a nobody-job. Now he's an Emperor of the wasteland. His rig and its trailers are the safest place around, stocked to the brim with canned food and gasoline. But his desire to have a harem who worship him opens himself up to the true horrors of the outback. Spurrier brings his trademark flare for developing intricately flawed characters to a story that will haunt your dreams for years to come. There is no hope and there is no help. There is only the Crossed. To celebrate this anniversary, original series artist Jacen Burrows returns to draw all the covers! In our greediest issue yet, Eugene Krabs, owner of the Krusty Krab and SpongeBob's penny-pinching boss, scuttles into the spotlight. First, Krabs hears of a mythical tree with dollar bills for leaves. To what ends will he go to possess this fiscal foliage? You, SpongeBob, and Squidward all find out in "The Money Tree" by Graham Annable. For this issue's pin-up, former Air Pirates artist Gary Hallgren paints a giant Bikini Bottom dollar bill with Krabs himself in the presidential spot. Also, in "Squidmund Visits," Squidward's got company, so he must get his house's feng shui in order. But Squidward forgot to plan for one thing — or make that two things, one yellow, one pink! All this plus facts about sand dollars, Patrick's introduction to the 3-second rule, and an adorable back cover by Graham Annable! (STK618541)

HIT #1
BOOM! Studios

Like most, my first comics were of the capes and tights variety and for a long time they were all I read. But as my tastes evolved I quickly found that my favorite comics are really the gritty crime noir types. There's just something about the comics medium that perfectly captures the storytelling beats and rhythms of the genre.

Now is a great time to be a fan these gritty noir comic tales because there are some great options on the stands – from Brubaker and Phillips Fatale to the hotly anticipated next volume in Archaia's Killer series. This September BOOM! launches another great option for crime enthusiasts with Bryce Carlson's Hit. Carlson's crafted a great period book that oozes noir sensibilities, beginning with a brutal opening sequence that quickly sets the tone for the entire issue. By the end of this first chapter two things are clear, in Carlson's LA there are no rules and no one is safe, and yet I can't wait to get back there and see what happens next.

AN INTERVIEW WITH KINGS WATCH WRITER JEFF PARKER

Who are the members of KINGS WATCH, and what do each of these characters contribute to the group?

It's the Trinity of King Features: Flash Gordon, Mandrake the Magician, and The Phantom. As well as some of their individual supporting casts. We find that the big three complement each other very well in dealing with the menaces unleashed in Kings Watch. Mandrake has arcane knowledge that lesser mortals would go insane being aware of, and he influences perception. The Phantom is a master of combat and fairly ruthless. Flash is the idealistic hero to whom odds mean nothing.

What most excites you about working on the KINGS WATCH project?

I've had an idea for Flash's character in the back of my head for a long time, and this story lets me introduce him that way. They're some of the biggest icons of pulp heroic fiction, and so many characters are influenced by them.

But most directly I'm very excited to work with Marc Laming. Every time new pages roll in from him, I have to show them to my studio mates, they're gorgeous. His art has the timeless quality that fits this like a glove. I'm very happy editor Nate Cosby paired us together. this book is coming to life.

Mandrake the Magician makes his return in KINGS WATCH. What are your thoughts on bringing back the character?

I'm really trying to preserve some mystery with him, which works to counter more out-in-front heroes like Flash. I think a lot of people assume you can't do these characters except as period pieces, which of course you can, but I want to show that they work great in a modern context without having to change what they are. The quality of 'classic' means it can work at any point.

All three of the principal cast - Flash Gordon, Mandrake, and The Phantom - have a long and storied career in popular media. In fact, some historians would consider Mandrake to be the first superhero. Has history /cultural (or pop cultural) significance played a role in how you handle the characters?

Oh yes. I put Alex Raymond and Flash Gordon way up at top in my hierarchy of adventure comics history- so much of what came later was established by Flash Gordon, and Raymond was a looming art hero, as was Al Williamson who later did some of the greatest Flash stories. As a kid I was able like many to read The Phantom in my daily newspaper, and for a while I'd cut them out and save them. I wasn't able to read Mandrake until later, my only sense of him was Kurtzman and Elder's parody Manduck The Magician in the old Mad Magazine reprints!

How impressive is it that Lee Falk kept writing the Phantom for the rest of the 20th Century? In short, the history of those characters and their creators looms large in my mental landscape and the chance to introduce them to new readers is one I couldn't pass up.

Heroes are often defined by the villains they face. What can you tell us about the perils that our heroes face in KINGS WATCH?

Since Mandrake was the first, it seemed appropriate to lead with his biggest enemy, The Cobra. In our story, The Cobra has found a source of power that will benefit him greatly, but put the entire planet in deep peril. He essentially opens Pandora's Box and our three heroes have to rise to a new level of challenge for all of them.

You're no stranger to team books, especially those with an off-beat line-up of very unique personalities. Are there parallels from your previous work in AGENTS OF ATLAS and X-MEN FIRST CLASS that fans will see in your new KINGS WATCH project?

I think especially if you liked Agents of Atlas you're going to enjoy this. That was all about approaching archetypes, and KW is too. I try to hit a balance of menace, thrill, and humor that I love about adventure fiction. And there are spies, pirates, and monsters.

Among the cast of KINGS WATCH - is there a particular character you have the most fun writing, and why?

I'm partial to Flash because we're presenting him as such an upbeat guy, but really they're all a thrill. The Phantom as a grizzled older hero who's seen everything is pretty appealing, after all.

How much previous knowledge of the characters would readers need to know before picking up KINGS WATCH?

Nothing at all. If you're familiar with the characters you'll pick up on history we're using, but there isn't anything to wiki-study before jumping in.

Are there any popular comparison titles on the market right now whose fans would best fit the KINGS WATCH audience?

Rocketeer, Shadow, B.P.R.D., anything I've worked on. I think you'll find it has universal appeal to the audiences who like Indiana Jones and Star Wars, franchises that were influenced by these features originally.

CO-MIX: RETROSPECTIVE OF COMICS, GRAPHICS, AND SCRAPS BY ART SPIEGELMAN HC

(W/A/CA) Art Spiegelman

In an art career that now spans six decades, Art Spiegelman has been a groundbreaking and influential figure with a global impact. His Pulitzer Prize-winning Holocaust memoir Maus established the graphic novel as a legitimate form and inspired countless cartoonists while his shorter works have enormously expanded the expressive range of comics. Co-Mix: A Retrospective of Comics, Graphics, and Scraps is a comprehensive career overview of the output of this legendary cartoonist, showing for the first time the full range of a half-century of relentless experimentation. By showing all facets of Spiegelman's career, the book demonstrates how he has persistently cross-pollinated the worlds of comics, commercial design, and fine arts. Essays by acclaimed film critic J. Hoberman and MoMA curator and Dean of the Yale University School of Art Robert Storr bookend Co-Mix, offering eloquent meditations on an artist whose work has been genre-defining. LOUIS RIEL: A COMIC STRIP BIOGRAPHY – 10TH-ANNIVERSARY EDITION TP

(W/A/CA) Chester Brown

To celebrate the tenth anniversary of Louis Riel's publication, Drawn and Quarterly is reissuing the book as a deluxe paperback, with a new introduction contextualizing the work's importance and the original pamphlet covers collected and reproduced in full color. As well, this edition will provide an overview of Brown's creative process and will include rare, never before published panel studies from the work. Louis Riel tells the story of the charismatic, and perhaps mad, nineteenth-century Metis leader whose struggle to win rights for his people led to violent rebellion on the nation's western frontier. Chester Brown's carefully researched, exquisitely illustrated, and much-lauded biography goes deep into the myths and the facts about this man, whose place in Canadian history is troubled. REGGIE-12 HC

(W/A/CA) Brian Ralph

What if Osamu Tezuka's beloved hero Astro Boy was a young robot with endless enthusiasm who lived with a bumbling sad-sack robot friend, a self-centered wise-cracking cat, and a well-meaning but forgetful inventor? Why, then he'd be Reggie-12! Reggie-12 is classic Japanese adventure manga cartooning reworked in Brian Ralph's trademark style and told with the episodic wit and structure of the contemporary American sitcom. Laughs explode from the page (and the reader's belly) as mishap follows caper follows disaster. Come along for a wild ride with Reggie-12, Casper, and Professor Tinkerton as they eat pizza, play video games, and get dissed by bad guys. (STK618462) (C. 0-0-1)

SUNDAY NIGHT MOVIES

SUNDAY NIGHT MOVIES SC

(W/A/CA) Leanne Shapton

Sunday Night Movies features Leanne Shapton's watercolors of resonant moments in black-and-white cinema. Selecting a brief fragment of each chosen film, she creates an indelible image that is both a hand-painted movie still and a personal response to a fleeting celluloid moment. Together, the seventy-eight paintings create a valentine to the world of cinema. Shapton's journey through film history becomes a wistful celebration of the subtle moments in stories, which can often slip by unnoticed. What could be a simple title, still life, or portrait of an actor becomes both illusive and allusive through the medium of these personal paintings. With Sunday Night Movies she brings her love of film to light, and the effect is restrained and fanciful, familiar and all new. (STK618464)

THE NATIVE TREES OF CANADA SC (NEW PRINTING)

(W/A/CA) Leanne Shapton

Renowned artist and designer Leanne Shapton has taken a century-old book and reinterpreted it in a series of bold, painted images. Shapton takes the otherwise complex objects of trees and strips them down into stark, almost abstract shapes and colors. She distills each subject into its simplest form, using vivid colors in lush gouache paint and her passion is evident in each painting. (STK425660)

CAVE-IN GN

(A/CA) Brian Ralph

A rat darts across the opening pages, into a hole, and down a long tunnel, stopping under a hammock. A mole man stretches and wakes up, leading the rat and the reader deeper into the tunnel. What follows is a series of dreamlike sequences, each stranger than the last. Brian Ralph, author of Daybreak, was a founding member of the influential Fort Thunder art collective, which was renowned for the way its members' work intermingled lowbrow and highbrow art forms. In this wordless classic, special emphasis is placed on the power of gesture. Cave-In is an all-ages adventure story, jam-packed with monsters, bats, and all manner of unimaginable underground mystery. (STK469795) (C. 0-1-2)

DAYBREAK GN (NEW EDITION)

(W/A/CA) Brian Ralph

You wake up in the rubble and see a ragged, desperate one-armed man greeting you. He takes you underground to a safe space, feeds you, offers you a place to sleep, and then announces that he'll take the first watch. It's not long before the peril of the jagged landscape has located you and your newfound protector and is scratching at the door. What transpires is a moment-to-moment struggle for survival — The Road meets Dawn of the Dead. Daybreak is seen through the eyes of a silent observer as he follows his protector and runs from the shadows of the imminent zombie threat. Brian Ralph slowly builds the tension of the zombies on the periphery, letting the threat, rather than the actual carnage, be the driving force. (STK522710)

ED THE HAPPY CLOWN HC

(W/A/CA) Chester Brown

In the late 1980s, the idiosyncratic Chester Brown (author of the much-lauded Paying for It and Louis Riel) began writing the cult classic comic book series Yummy Fur. Within its pages, he serialized the groundbreaking Ed the Happy Clown, revealing a macabre universe of parallel dimensions. Ed the Happy Clown is a hallucinatory tale that functions simultaneously as a dark roller-coaster ride of criminal activity and a scathing condemnation of religious and political charlatanism. I NEVER LIKED YOU SC

(W/A/CA) Chester Brown

A self-absorbed teenager, Chester Brown strays into the difficult territory of friendship and early love while at home there is a slowly building crisis over his mother's mental health. Emotionally intense, the story veers unsteadily between the extremes of eerie detachment and sudden desperate outbursts of need. A complex and disturbing true story told with a nuanced, queasy visual style that lingers in the mind long after the book has been put away. (STK339333)

PAYING FOR IT GN

(W/A/CA) Chester Brown

Paying For It was easily the most talked-about and controversial graphic novel of 2011, a critical success so innovative and complex that it received two rave reviews in the New York Times, and sold out of its first print run in just six months. Chester Brown calmly lays out the facts of how he became not only a willing participant in, but a vocal proponent of one of the world's most hot-button topics — prostitution. Complete with a surprise ending, Paying for It continues to provide endless debate and conversation about sex work. (STK529039) (C: 0-0-1)

THE PLAYBOY GN (NEW EDITION)

(W/A/CA) Chester Brown

The Playboy is a memoir about Brown's adolescence, sexuality, and shame that chronicles his teenage obsession with the magazine of the same name. Exploring the physical form of comics to its fullest storytelling capacity, a fifteen year-old Chester is visited by a time-traveling adult Chester, and the latter narrates the former's compulsion to purchase each issue of Playboy as it appears on newsstands. Even more fascinating than his obsession with the magazine is Brown's need to keep this habit secret, and the great lengths to which he goes to avoid detection by, at first, his family, and then, later, by girlfriends. THE FANTASTIC VOYAGE OF LADY ROZENBILT

Humanoids

Pierre Gabus and Romuald Reutimann take a familiar setting like 1930's New York City and give it a radical new spin along with some subtle humanizing details to create one of the most well-built worlds I've had the pleasure of exploring. In their first book, District 14 [NOV12 225], horse gangs ran protection rackets, elephant immigrants carried international secrets, and haunting human ex-girlfriends plagued their old lovers. Set in a city as fantastic as its inhabitants, the graphic novel spun through nail-biting suspense and drama reminiscent of the Blacksad books, but with more surprising science fiction.

You cannot imagine my delight to find that authors Gabus and Reutimann are returning to the world they built around District 14. This time the story follows the family of a previously introduced but highly mysterious cat-man out to a tropical island beyond the walls of the City itself. There's submarines, wealth to rival Gatsby, crawling cthuloids in tanks, mind control, and murder — and it all dovetails perfectly with the beautiful world that Gabus & Reutimann built.

MARADA THE SHE WOLF
Titan Comics

Chris Claremont is widely recognized for his work on Uncanny X-Men, having penned several iconic stories in the X-Men franchise. Now, Titan Comics is bringing Claremont's Marada the She Wolf back to print.

Initially the project was to be a Red Sonja book, but Marvel lost the rights. Claremont and artist John Bolton were not deterred and gave their main character a make over giving her silver hair, a new back story rooted in the Roman Empire, and a new name. To top it off she's also a direct descendant of a Caesar too!

The result is a thrilling adventure starring a warrior woman that deals with enemies and her men on her terms. Marada squares off against raiders, demons, sorcerers, and more. Fans of sword and sorcery fantasy and Chris Claremont's work will not be disappointed. Pick up Marada the She Wolf from Titan Comics!

Infomaniacs is a graphic novel printed on paper all about the internet by the author of 1-800-MICE. A hilarious detective story that manages to critique and explore digital culture, Infomaniacs is marked by the author's restless questioning and heightened sense of the absurd. Thurber looks in on "The Scriveners of Tweet Street," Albert Radar, a Joseph Beuys-lookalike psychiatrist, a perfectly preserved brain that has never seen the internet, an organic server farm, the Anthropomorphic Task Force, and so much more. Think of it as The Long Goodbye for the Tumblr generation. (STK618011) (C: 0-0-1)

POMPEII GN

(W/A/CA) Frank Santoro

Frank Santoro's graphic novel takes place just before the eruption of Pompeii in the year 79 CE. Marcus, a young expat artist from Paestum, works as an assistant in Pompeii to Flavius, a seemingly well-regarded painter. Aside from mixing paint, Marcus is entangled in the older artist's romantic deceptions, while stuck figuring out his own. Santoro has constructed a historical fiction that is rooted in emotional truths and structured around classical principles of composition. (STK618013) (C: 0-0-1)

It is the story of Oola, a high school student with an unusual connection to the supernatural. Comprised of four chapters, each deploying a different narrative technique, School Spirits is at once funny, sexy, mystical and, above all, utterly clear. Davidson's crisp cartooning style makes even the strangest occurrences seem utterly plausible. (STK618016) (C: 0-0-1)

ROY THOMAS PRESENTS BRIEFER'S FRANKENSTEIN 1945-1946 HC

(W) Roy Thomas & Various
(A/CA) Dick Briefer
Dick Briefer's Frankenstein for Prize Comics is widely regarded as being America's first ongoing horror series. Indeed, it was Briefer's work that probably caused the creature to be actually named as Frankenstein instead of the nameless monstrosity from Shelley's novel. Splitting the stories between two stools — humor and horror — Briefer's tales are absorbing and unsettling in equal parts. Some of the humorous material has already been reprinted, though not necessarily in order nor in total. Until now, of course! This volume collects stories published between 1945 and November/December 1946. (STK617904) (C: 0-1-2)

SONS OF ANARCHY #1

BOOM! Studios

Where do I begin? Oh yes ...heart palpitations. When I heard BOOM! was going to be moving forward with a Sons of Anarchy comic. I had heart palpitations.

The date was September 3, 2008. I was channel surfing one night when I came across a commercial for an upcoming series about a motorcycle club. Well color me interested. I grew up in a Harley-riding family, which originated my interest in the show, and my interest continued when I met the main character in the first few minutes of the episode. Jackson "Jax" Teller as played by Charlie Hunnam. Any warm blooded female who has ever seen the show knows what piques my interest about the character of Jax Teller

I have been obsessed with this show for years, partly because the majority of the cast is easy on the eyes, but mainly because Kurt Sutter does an amazing job of developing those characters and plotlines. Throughout the last five seasons of the show, I've laughed, cried, screamed, gasped, and felt every emotion under the sun because the writing makes you feel all those emotions. You become so invested in these characters to the point where I have yet to recover emotionally from a few of the major deaths on the show. The show is that good.

Tonight I'm going to sit down in my living room surrounded by three Sons of Anarchy posters hanging on my walls, and I'm going to begin to re-live season 5 on my DVR in preparation for season 6 premiering this fall. In the meantime, I know I will have a Sons of Anarchy comic to look forward to in coming months as well. I have high hopes for this comic. Kurt Sutter has set the bar high for what is SAMCRO.

RASL: COMPLETE HC

Cartoon Books

Who doesn't love a good sci-fi noir? An experimental physicist running around with his partner's wife, a hulking lizard-faced hitman with his hat pulled low, an inter-dimensional art thief on the loose ... RASL has a lot to offer, but at the end of the day, I think its greatest feat is pure unsettling weirdness. Our protagonist plays out a unique blend of chase scene, exile, and vision quest as he races forward from danger, slips backward into memory, and slides sideways into other worlds. In the eerie desert landscape Jeff Smith bends heavy science toward the mystical and the absurd—just close enough to take your eye off the prize, the solution to the puzzle and the core of the mystery. As Annie warns in chapter two, "The closer you get to the center, the faster the turning points come."

SIRENS: THE PIN-UP ART OF DAVID WRIGHT HC

David Wright was one of the leading pin-up artists of the 20th century. Often compared to his American contemporaries Alberto Vargas and Gil Elvgren, the British-born Wright brought a sense of realism to his willowy beauties, who appeared in publications on both sides of the Atlantic, especially during World War II. Now, finally, access has been granted to his archive, and this is the first ever collection of his work. The book includes over 200 pieces, including pulp fiction covers, advertising work and many previously unpublished original paintings. [STK6176]

AMERICAN COMICS

THE CLASSIC ERA OF AMERICAN COMICS SC
(W) Nicky Wright, Joe Kubert
(A) Various
The world has never seen the like of the American comic book. In their heyday, the top 500 comics sold over 60 million copies a month, and are still avidly collected. Taking us from the 1930s into the 1950s, Nicky Wright tells the fascinating story of the rise of this highly creative popular art form through its decline due to the self-censorship imposed by Congress and the churches. Highly illustrated with a huge range of front covers, comic strips, and images of the characters, the book also covers the personalities who wrote, drew, and edited these classics. TINKER BELL: AN EVOLUTION HC
(W) Melinda Anderson
How did Tinker Bell get her name? In J. M. Barrie's original version of the play Peter Pan, the little sprite's name was Tippytoe, and she had speaking lines. But over time, Barrie decided that the fairy's expressions would be best voiced by musical chimes. Now, more than a hundred years later, it is difficult to believe that this popular pixie began as a circle of lamplight, reflected in a mirror controlled by a stage hand behind the curtains. Tinker Bell: An Evolution is a full biography of the fiery little fairy. XEROX FEROX: THE WILD WORLD OF HORROR IN FILM FANZINES SC

(W) John Szpunar

From Famous Monsters of Filmland to Fangoria and everything in between, Xerox Ferox is much more than a book about monster magazines. It is the first book of its kind to examine the home-grown DIY fanzines that dared to dig deeper than the slick and shiny newsstand mags ever would or even could. Before message boards, before blogs, before the Internet itself, the fanzine reigned as the chief source of news and information for horror fans worldwide. Xerox Ferox traces the rise of the horror film fanzine, from the Famous Monster-starved kids of the 1960s to the splatter-crazed gorehounds of the Fangoria generation. O/A STAR TREK: THE NEXT GENERATION – COMMUNICATOR BADGE REPLICA

QMX's Star Trek: The Next Generation communicator badge was crafted using one of the only remaining sets of original molds, which was painstakingly restored in their artisan model shop. To get the colors and paint details, they studied an actual screen-used badge. And once the design of the original matched, QMX took the whole thing a step further, rendering the replica in gold and silver-finished metal. What sets this wearable badge apart from the original is the clasp, which uses strong, short-field magnets that are embedded in the badge itself and in a glossy backplate. No more pinholes in delicate fabric. It can even be worn on leather and suede. (STK525241) (7814/STR0031) (C: 1-1-1) NOTE: Available only in the United States, Canada, and U.S. Territories.

PACIFIC RIM

PACIFIC RIM

From Warner Bros. Pictures! When legions of monstrous creatures, known as Kaiju, started rising from the sea, a war began that would take millions of lives and consume humanity's resources for years on end. To combat the giant Kaiju, a special type of weapon was devised: massive robots, called Jaegers, which are controlled simultaneously by two pilots whose minds are locked in a neural bridge. But even the Jaegers are proving nearly defenseless in the face of the relentless Kaiju. On the verge of defeat, the forces defending mankind have no choice but to turn to two unlikely heroes—a washed up former pilot (Charlie Hunnam) and an untested trainee (Rinko Kikuchi)—who are teamed to drive a legendary but seemingly obsolete Jaeger from the past. Together, they stand as mankind's last hope against the mounting apocalypse. Combo Pack includes both Blu-Ray and standard DVD formats. Also available in standard DVD. (STK618662) (C 0-1 2)

R.I.P.D.
REST IN PEACE DEPARTMENT
JULY 19 in 3D

R.I.P.D.

From Universal Pictures! Jeff Bridges and Ryan Reynolds headline the 3D supernatural action-adventure R.I.P.D. as two cops dispatched by the otherworldly Rest In Peace Department to protect and serve the living from an increasingly destructive array of souls who refuse to move peacefully to the other side. Veteran sheriff Roy Pulsiter (Bridges) has spent his career with the legendary police force known as R.I.P.D. tracking monstrous spirits who are cleverly disguised as ordinary people. His mission? To arrest and bring to justice a special brand of criminals trying to escape final judgment by hiding among the unsuspecting on Earth. Once the wise-cracking Roy is assigned former rising-star detective Nick Walker (Reynolds) as his junior officer, the new partners have to turn grudging respect into top-notch teamwork. When they uncover a plot that could end life as we know it, two of R.I.P.D.'s finest must miraculously restore the cosmic balance...or watch the tunnel to the afterlife begin sending angry souls the very wrong way. ASH-KICKER!

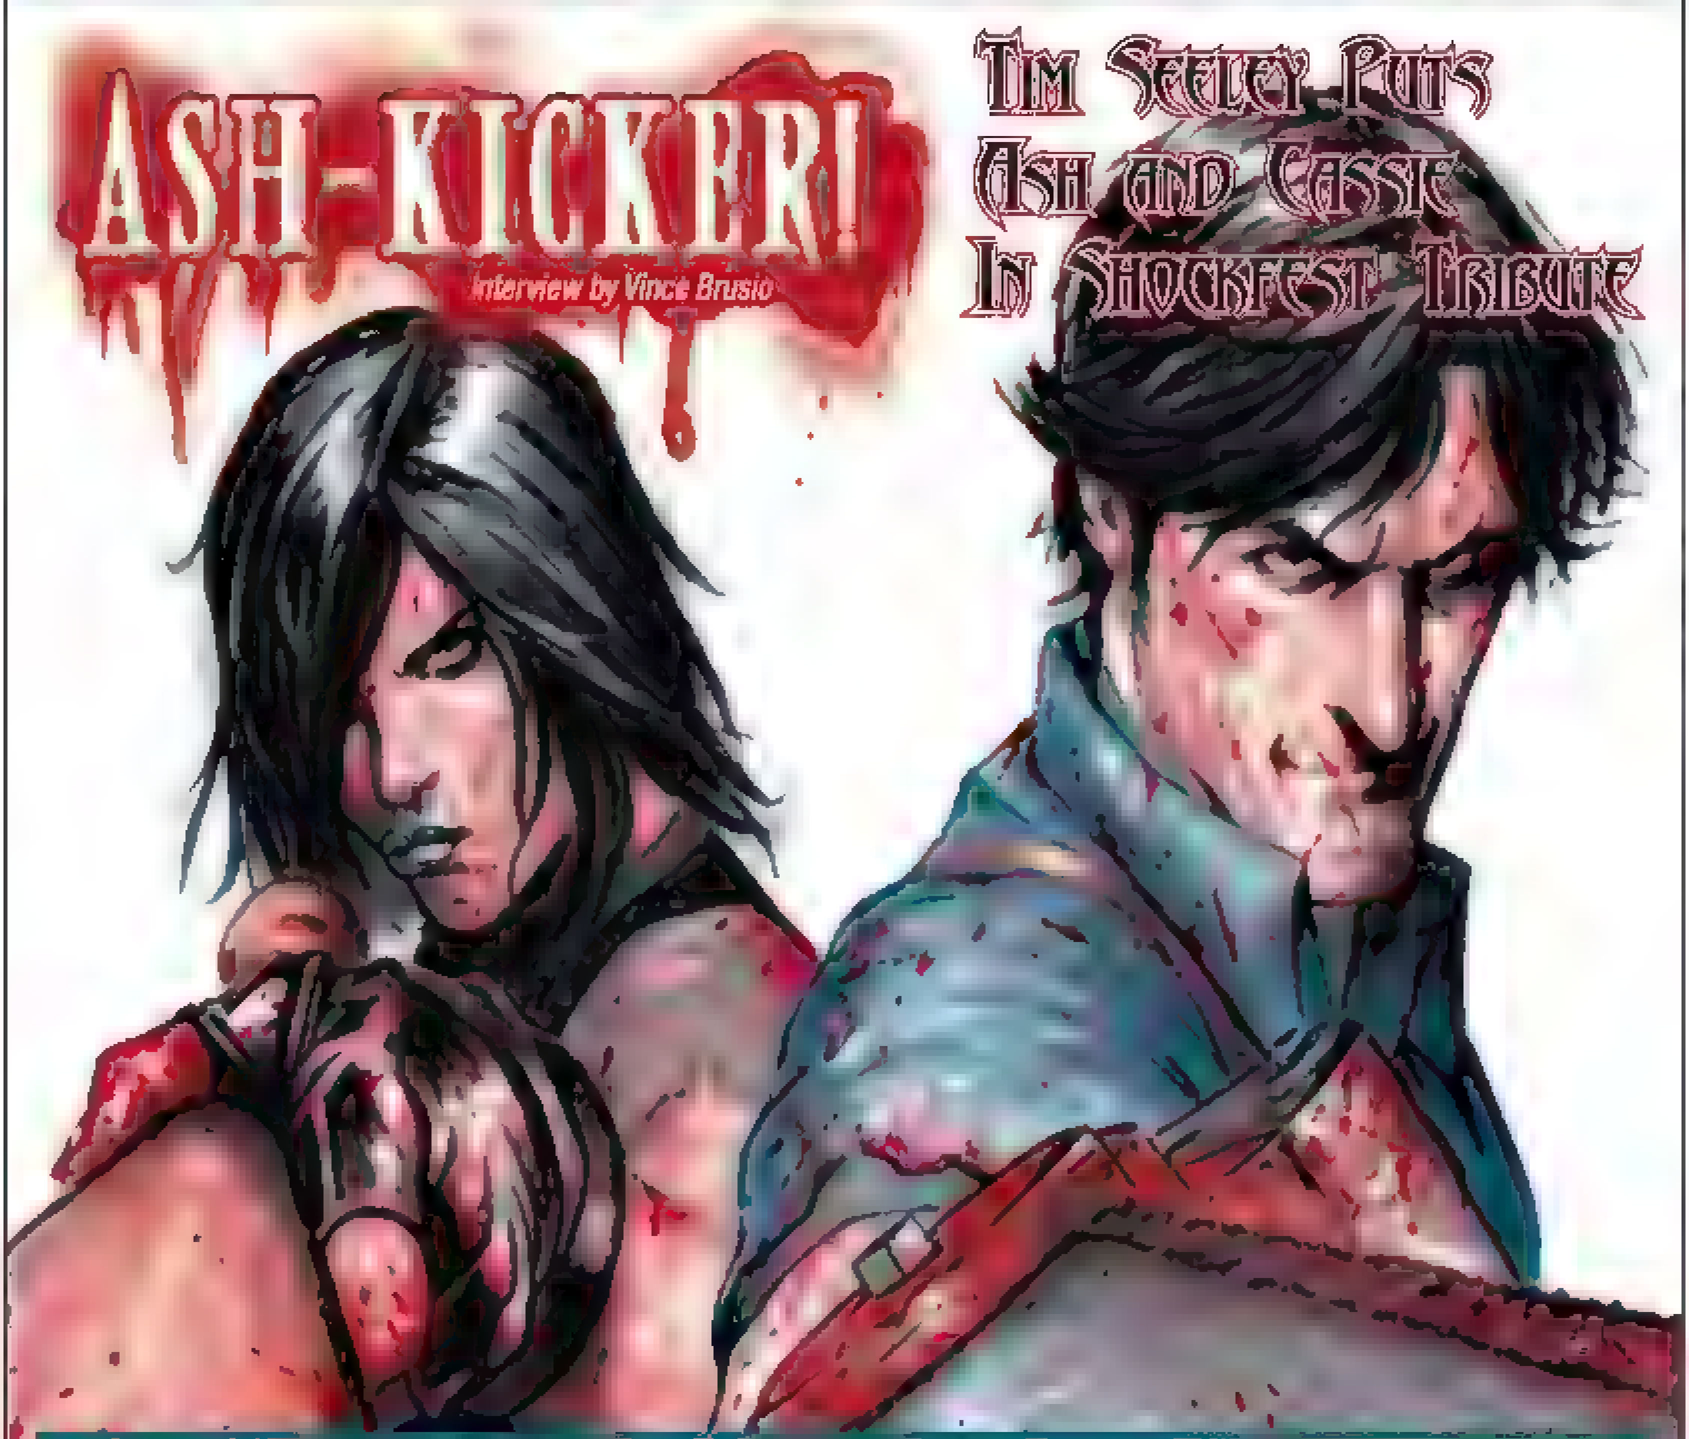
Interview by Vince Brusio

Tim Seeley Puts Ash and Cassie In Shockfest Tribute



All that's missing is the soda and the popcorn... A reservoir of one-liners... Buckets of blood for Sam Raimi... and of course, the uncomfortable silence when boy meets girl... and both are armed and dangerous! That's what's on the menu for Tim Seeley's Army of Darkness vs. Hack/Slash #1 (on sale this month!) from Dynamite Entertainment and Image Comics! PREVIEWSworld.com editor Vince Brusio (a dyed-in-the-wool horror fan if ever there was one) caught up with Hack/Slash creator Tim Seeley to discuss the epic team-up of his serial killer hunters with the Deadite-killing master of the one-liners himself, Ashley J. Williams! As we're celebrating Halloween in all its spooky glory, this was one interview just made for this season!

FLIPside

PREVIEWS: Let's get it out of the way: the question is will Cassie fall for Ash's mojo? Most would say the answer is "absolutely not." But tell us how much fun you've had in dancing around that question? It seems like Army of Darkness vs. Hack/Slash #1 already has a lot going for it in people wondering what this battle of the sexes will look like.*

Tim Seeley: The way we're playing Ash here is that he's a few years beyond the Army of Darkness film, so, at least to a girl like Cassie, he seems like an "old guy". And that really bothers him, I think. So, the dynamic going in has him being paired with a really hot girl in her late teens/early 20s, and he's trying to deal with it. And Ash is not a 100% noble guy by any stretch...he tries to be a good guy, but he's got poor impulse control. Makes for lots of fun interactions between he and Cassie.

P: In a previous interview with Horror News Network, you claim that Cassie knows of Ash prior to meeting him in this book. Could you elaborate on that? How do these two know of each others' reputations? Do they follow each other on Twitter?*

TS: Since Cassie and Ash have both been around for awhile when we begin the crossover, the implication is that they've run across similar cases and bad guys, and have kept up with what the other was doing, even if they haven't actually crossed paths. Kinda like how you know about other poeple in your field, especially the important ones. I figured that if Cassie had met Chucky, and Ash had met Freddy and Jason, there was probably some urban legends researched, etc that alerted each to the others existence.

P: The gore factor is supposed to go up in this book, and be more intense than what we'd see in the Hack/Slash series. Is this due to someone taking off the handcuffs for artist Daniel Leister, or because you chose to tell a story that was a tribute to the blood-and-guts in previous Evil Dead movies?*

TS: Yeah, the violence and gore in this is definitely in homage to the way Sam Raimi does gore — over-the-top. And occasionally so over-the-top as to be humorous.

P Put Ash and Cassie in a Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid moment. The two of them are being rushed by Deadites, and it's time to jump off the mountain to land in the river below. Which one has to be talked into jumping off the mountain first? How would that conversation go? How would they trade insults if one of them had to save face?

TS: Ash is more of an action hero than Cassie, and he has an almost "Looney Tunes / Three Stooges" immunity to damage. Cassie on the other hand, is much more likely to get hurt or killed, but she's not scared. She's fatalistic that way. I think they both go over, but for different reasons. The insults come after. Cassie's got a pretty mean wit, but Ash is no slouch. This mini-series could probably have been subtitled "Zinger One-liner Factory!"

P: Cassie can be tagged as "the Last Girl", an apocalypse angel. Ash, of course, the "Everyman" splatter movie hero. Archetypal characters both. So in the spirit of the Evil Dead remake, let's give you another fantasy film moment, and have you envision the Army of Darkness vs. Hack/Slash movie. Who would be the new faces that you would cast for the roles (and why?), and what would be the location for the filming?

TS: Well, I'm never, ever recasting Ash. It's Campbell, or no one. And, sure, he's a little older now, but he's still got the chops. For Cassie, I long ago gave up trying to answer this one. I don't know anymore. Someone sexy and bad-ass, and a damn good actress. And, since the story is kind of a "road movie" I'm film scouting all across the US... the creepy, dying, off-the-main-highway towns and cities. Add Ash's beat up Oldsmobile, and you've got movie magic!
